A SOLID REPUTATION BUILT ON TRUST

The embodiment of traditional southern hospitality, Randy Jeffcoat Builders can make your building experience so good and so smooth that the experience itself will be like a dream come true.

Randy Jeffcoat Builders builds some of the most distinctive, elegant and gorgeous high-end custom homes in South Carolina. With the finest architects and interior designers on Hilton Head Island working on your home, it's bound to be everything you want it to be.

Elegance

AT RANDY JEFFCOAT BUILDERS

"A custom home should not merely be an expression of your position in life, but rather an extension of your life." – Randy Jeffcoat

YOU DESERVE THE VERY BEST

Founder Randy Jeffcoat is a hands-on builder from the first meeting to the final punch list, constantly walking the job sites and conducting personal walk-throughs with all clients. An experienced framer, Randy has been in the family business for more than 40 years, along with involvement from his wife Brenda, and their sons, Trey and Rhett.

HONORING OUR COMMITMENT TO YOU

Join hands with the Randy Jeffcoat Builders' team and it will be home and life, simplified; custom homes, built comfortably. They take time to get to know you and your lifestyle requirements before pen even gets to design pad. To them, this undertaking is as important as it is to you. They are meticulous and passionate about detail, available to you whenever you have questions or want to discuss concerns, gracious while under the pressures of work and helpful in making numerous choices about what will go into your home, from cabinet knobs to windows.

Sophistication

"It is with great appreciation that Kim and I recount our homebuilding experience with you. Your team's professionalism did a wonderful job representing your company and attending to our specific needs. Of course, Brenda's suggestions for our interior as well as exterior selections added the warmth and elegance that we were striving to achieve. We are proud to show our home to our family and friends and always talk about our positive and successful experience with your company."

- Palmetto Dunes Plantation

"Mary Sue & I would like to thank you for the time you devoted to our project. Brenda and Randy you both are just super people, honest in every way and we know your quality is one of the best around. Again, we cannot thank you enough for such a beautiful home."

- Windmill Harbour

We offer a design/build program in tandem with a group of architects. You can have an existing floor plan or we can create your dreams from scratch. Just tell us what you want and we will make it happen.

Brenda Jeffcoat is our in-house design consultant for all your interior design needs, sharing with you her insights into how to choose just the right appointments and design plans to make your home interior the elegant environment you want. Peace of mind and comfort, one hundred percent of the time, during the whole process is the goal.

Craftsmanship

"Doug and I are loving our beautiful home! Once again, it was a pleasure to work with you Randy Jeffcoat Builders. We appreciate your thoroughness and attention to detail and high standards. When we build our next house we will insist on Randy Jeffcoat Builders!"

- Moss Creek Plantation

"We have received numerous compliments on our home from our neighbors for the beauty and quality of our home, as well as the expeditious manner in the way it was constructed. We knew that your company had our best interest in mind and would do whatever possible to make us happy. The chairman of the Design Review Commission tells me whenever he sees us that Randy Jeffcoat Builders was one of the most cooperative contractors to build on Ribaut Island. Would we recommend Randy Jeffcoat Builders and have them build us another home? Yes we would!"

- Ribuat Island - Hilton Head Plantation

DESIGN BUILD

There are a thousand and one details that go into building a new home. Keeping track of them is a builder's greatest challenge.

Imagine if you had 10 different sources to work with when you are building a home besides your builder. A contractor for this, a designer for that, a subcontractor, a mason, and so forth. Not only can things get really confusing, they can get done wrong, and not on time.

Now imagine if you had only one source to partner with for everything that goes into building a home – your builder and his or her in-house building team of local architects and designers, structural engineers and landscape architects – all working together as a one stop shop for you. It's called the Design-Build method, and The Jeffcoat Team is a design-build team.

There are many advantages to this method, not the least of which is, the entire project, from design through construction, is completed by a unified professional team. And so:

- You save time and money on construction plans
- It takes less time to deliver your finished home
- It is easier to budget
- Things are settled upfront instead of during construction
- We coordinate with your Architectural Review Board
- You develop a trustworthy relationship with us before a construction contract is initiated
- You have access to our one of-a-kind, detailed photo gallery of kitchens, bathrooms, exterior elevations, etc.

Process....

We are constantly value-engineering your design throughout the entire process to ensure the most sufficiently and economically designed home possible.

Comfort....

The Design Agreement is separated from the Construction Contract document, and the two documents are then broken down into three payments based on a cost per heated square foot. This kind of easy payment plan makes it more comfortable for you. We call it "Custom Homes Comfortably."

Founded in 2001, Residential Concepts Design Group (RCDG) offers custom residential designs of the highest quality. Our 3-person team has the vision and creativity to adapt to a variety of designs .
